

ILLINOIS GUARD IS GATHERING AT CAMP

MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS RAP-IDLY NEARING COMPLETION
AT THE CAPITAL.

GOVERNOR'S SON AS PRIVATE

Was Married In Chicago Today Attired As Member of the National Guard.

(Associate dPress)

Springfield, June 24—The mobilization of the National Guard is rapidly nearing completion. The Eighth regiment, colored, of Chicago and Co.
M of the Fourth Infantry, Champaign, arrived today.

DUNNE IS MARRIED.

Chicago, June 24—Richard Dunne, son of the Governor, and Miss Frances Fitzgerald were married today at the Church of Our Lady, Mt. Carmel.
The groom was attired as a private in the Illinois National Guard, which he rejoined recently. The Governor was present.

Washington, June 24.—In adopting an amendment to the Hay resolution, authorizing the President to draft into the federal service immediately all National Guardsmen willing to take the oath, the house unanimously declared that an emergency now existed necessitating a call on state troops.
A new section of the bill, offered by Representative Hay, and also unanimously adopted, would appropriate not exceeding $1,000,000 for allowances not to exceed $50 a month to dependents of National Guardsmen with no other income than the guardsmen's pay.

All Militia Ordered to Border.
Washington, June 24.—Secretary
Baker issued orders to all army departmental commanders to send to the Mexican border all militia available immediately upon their organization, without waiting for completion of the mobilization of the separate states.
The commanders were requested to notify General Funston when each regiment, troop, battery or other unit completes muster. General Funston will indicate where he wishes the forces sent in each instance, and the departmental commander, without further instructions from Washington, will arrange transportation and send them forward.

The announcement of the new orders was made officially after the Cabinet meeting, but it was understood that they actually had been issued before the cabinet convened. No explanation was offered for the change in the original plan to send only a part of the available guardsmen at present and officials would not disclose whether news of any important developments in Mexico had caused the step.

Changes Original Order.
The original orders to the guard-men were for their mobilization in state concentration camps to await further orders. The war department had planned to call upon the states which effected the best and earliest complete mobilization, having regard to the distance and time for transportation.
The orders are expected to result in the immediate movement toward border of separate regiments from many states whose entire national strength has not been assembled.

County Clerk Dimick issued a marriage license today to Emil L.
Kostholm of Elmhurst and Matilda
A. Duffy, Dixon.

was here today on business at the court house.

Cushing Thinks Sixth Will Be Called For Service Later

Captain Cushing, who has been identified with militia affairs for a good many years and who has been retire with the rank of Major, when interviewed last evening relative to the chances of the local company being called to the front for service, among other things said he thought that eventually the Sixth regiment would be called and he thinks the reason for the Fifth and Sixth not being called with the other regiments of the National Guard of the state was the fact that there would be no room
to put them in camp at Springfield.
Capt. Cushing said that was the case in 1898 when he was in the militia and experienced some difficulty in getting his men into camp.
The Captain is of the opinion that the trouble with Mexico will not last

SENATE MILITARY COMMITTEE MAKES SUBSTITUTION IN HAY RESOLUTION.

ORDERED FAVORABLE REPORT

Washington, June 24.—The Senate
Military committee today ordered a favorable report on the Hay resolution, as adopted in the house yesterday, authorizing the president to draft the national guard into federal service outside the borders of the country. The $1,000,000 provision for families dependent on guardsmen was eliminated in the senate committee's report and a substitute provision directs that militiamen having families dependent upon them be discharged immediately.

MADDEN TO EQUIP REGIMENT

Illinois Congressman Will Defray the Expenses In Case of War.

Washington, D. C., June 24.— In case war is declared with Mexico Representative Madden of Chicago will raise and equip a regiment of volunteers and offer it to the government for service in the field.

Mr. Madden is one congressman who believes in preparedness and in practicing what he preaches about preparedness.

He said today: "I realize that I could not go to the front because of my physical condition and possibly because of my age. All that I have, however, either in brains or property, belongs to my country in time of need, and in case of war, with Mexico or any other country, I shall raise a regiment and equip it at my own expense and then offer it to my country for its use. If I can be of further service in any way, I am ready."

PRESIDENT JAMES IS NOT CANDIDATE NOW

HEAD OF UNIVERSITY OF ILLI-NOIS SAYS HE WILL NOT SEEK PLACE.

WILL STICK TO SCHOOL DUTIES

President Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois is not a candidate for the republican nomination for governor of Illinois. The university head made this announcement
last night and telephoned Charles S.
Deneen he would not make the race.

In refusing to become a candidate Dr. James says that he believes that he could have been nominated and elected. His reasons for not becoming a candidate, he explains, are because he did not believe the university should be brought into politics and also because he did not feel his immediate resignation would be fair to the institution.

Dr. James does not eliminate himself permanently as a possible governor of Illinois. After explaining his reasons for his action the university head concludes that he has not decided to become a candidate at the present time.

RUSH TO HUGHES IS RESULT OF T.R. NOTE

FORECAST THAT COLONEL IS FOR REPUBLICAN NOMINEE
GETS THE PROGS.

LEADERS ARE FOR THE JUSTICE

Candidate Is Assured of Solid Reunited Party In the Coming Election.

New ork, June 23.—When forecast of Roosevelt's letter to the progressive national committee was confirmed in New York political circles today there was a rush of republican and progressive leaders to the Lead-quarters in the Astor to sign up under the Hughes banner.

Elihu Root was one of the first callers to enlist in the Hughes army. He offered his services to the republican candidate without reservations. He told Mr. Hughes that he was awaiting his commands and that whatever service he could be to him in the coming campaign would be gladly given.

Dissect Foss' Platform.
Then for an hour Mr. Root and Mr.
Hughes dissected the democratic national platform, Mr. Root laying particular stress on the Wilson record with respect to its foreign policy and the preparedness issue.

They went over the democratic pronouncement and when they reached the Mexican plank Mr. Root advised that the heaviest possible fire be centered on this. It was his notion, it is understood, that the present deplorable situation in Mexico is the direct and inevitable result of the Wilson policies and inactivity in preparing for the crisis months ago. Failure to take the stitch in time they will hold responsible for the present plunging of the nation into a war that could have been avoided by the Hughes type of statesmanship in the white house and averted with both peace and honor to the nation or met by a condition in this country that would have found the nation prepared for any emergency.

Fairbanks Sees Hughes.
Charles W. Fairbanks, Hughes' running mate, followed Root into the reception room and for two hours
they discussed campaign plans.

Mr. Fairbanks said he could not talk for publication at this time, but would have to follow the lead of the chief and await the formal notification of his nomination.

host at the Root-Roosevelt dinner;

torney of St. Louis and progressive ate.

OFFICIALS BELIEVE CAVALRY WAS DELIBERATELY WIPED OUT; ANOTHER ATTACK ON AMERICANS THREATENED

TWENTY-SEVEN OF EIGHTY-FOUR MEN IN TWO TROOPS HAVE RE-TURNED TO PERSHING'S CAMP—THE REST ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN KILLED OR CAPTURED—WASHINGTON SAYS THE ONLY QUESTION IS WHETHER MEN WERE KILLED BY CAR-RANZA'S EXPRESS ORDERS OR THROUGH SOME SUBORDINATE.

THINK WAR CAN NOT BE AVERTED BY DIPLOMACY

(Associated Press)
Chihuahua City, June 24 — American columns have been seen advancing from the American field base in the direction of San Antonio and Ojo Caliente.
Gen. Trevino has issued orders to attack the American soldiers
if they do not immediately retreat.

IF CAVALRY PERISHED WAR CAN'T BE AVERTED

Washington, June 24.—Secretaries Lansing and Baker conferred with President Wilson at 10 o'clock this morning. Before going to the white house they said they had received no new reports from Pershing and the policy of the government remains unchanged.

The seven survivors of the Carrizal fight returned to Pershing's camp brought no definite word concerning the fate of the others. If it is true that the American force of nearly 100 was annihilated not even diplomatic representations from Carranza can prevent war, according to the opinion of officials here.

FORCE WAS PRACTICALLY WIPED OUT BY MEXICANS

San Antonio, June 24.—Complete disorganization of the two troops engaged at Carrizal Wednesday by Carranza troops and the practical annihilation of those actually in the fight is indicated in a report from General Pershing to General Funston.
One packer and eight enlisted men of Troop C and seven men of Troop K were picked up yesterday morning
by Lieut. Meyer near Santa Maria.
All were horse soldiers and the stories they tell are almost identical with the reports given by stragglers reaching the transmission lines yesterday.
The captured prisoners were assaulted by the populace here while being transferred from the station to the penitentiary. Spillsbury, Mormon scout, is also in prison, according to Gen. Trevino. According to Trevino, Spillsbury said neither he nor the negroes knew who began the firing here.

AMERICAN PRISONERS ARE PLACED IN JAIL

Chihuahua City, June 24.—The seven American negro cavalymen who were captured in the Carrizal battle have been placed in the penitentiary here. No arrangements have been made for their surrender to American authorities.

TELLS OF HEAVY LOSS INFLECTED BY MACHINE

Spillsbury said: "The troops were 150 yards apart when the firing began. Capt. Boyd, Capt. Morey and I advanced half way to meet General Gomez and it was twenty minutes after we had returned to our respective he had obtained from stragglers and lines before the firing began. Troop press reports, Gen. Pershing called C got into a deep ditch where the

Merchants Divided On Matter Of Closing During Afternoon

There is considerable agitation going the rounds regarding the closing proposition. Merchants are wondering just how to handle it. The hitch in the matter seems to be the fact that the clothing merchants keep open on Wednesday evenings and dry goods people wish to close every evening in the week except Saturday. The clothing people say that they are compelled to keep open Wednesday evening and the dry goods people reply, "If that's the way you fellows think about it, we will continue to keep open also."

As a result cards have been mailed to every merchant in the city asking each one to go on record one way or the agitation, to close one afternoon
each week and close every evening except Saturday evening.

Now the question comes up, what afternoon will be the one to close. As you would like to have the merchant
a result of the card campaign, merchants are divided on the proposition.
Several have not answered. Some desire to close every night except Saturday and several wish to keep open two evenings each week.
So much for the merchants.
Now come the members of the association with an appeal to the Telegraph. They wish the paper to get into the game and start a customer campaign, asking the people of the city and vicinity what they wish to do about the matter.
Will the customers write the Telegraph just what they think about the proposition?
Do you desire the stores open two evenings each week?
Do you desire the stores to close one-half day each week, and which half day do you wish the stores to close?
Do you desire all stores to keep closed each evening except Saturday?
If any feel so inclined drop the Telegraph a line or two telling just what afternoon will be the one to close. As
you would like to have the merchant
a result of the card campaign, merchants are divided on the proposition.

SUMMER.

Summer begins officially on the 22nd, but has been doing spring training in sunstrokes and thirsts for almost a month. It is that quarter of the year in which the sun gets up early, takes a position directly over the earth, and shines on it for sixteen hours with no time off for meals.

The result is so uncomfortable that people frequently travel 5000 miles to find a spot where the sun observes union hours.

Summer comes in very gradually and quietly, like legislation in behalf of the interests, but can readily be detected by consulting the thermometer. If the mercury registers 169 degrees and the paint is peeling off, it is perfectly safe to remove one's winter underwear. Even those who have no thermometer and have to depend on the icewater instruments used by the government weather bureaus can detect the arrival of summer by the affectionate and clammy manner in which their clothes cling to them. When a man's shoes seem filled to bursting with hot, moist feet and his collar dops down on his neck and begins to trickle down his spine, he can feel perfectly safe in putting on a straw hat without offending the calendar. Summer can also be distinguished by the firm and dictatorial manner in which a man's throat takes him and leads him into a drug store or a beer garden, even when he is in a great hurry.

Summer lasts in prosperous localities until the vacation money is exhausted and in working circles until father begins to eat supper with his coat on. It is extremely beneficial to mankind, producing more crops in a minute than winter could turn out in a century. It is especially hard on fat men. After a fat man has waded through two months of summer like a sprinkling cart, leaving a broad trail of perspiration behind him, he begins to think of Hades with a great deal of longing—for it is not recorded that lost souls have to wear collars and shoes.

Summer produces many phenomena, including baseball fans, mosquitoes, ventilated hosiery, Coney Island, Atlantic City, shirtwaist men, feather-weight fiction, Panama hats, ice cream festivals, bathing suits, circuses and watermelon pickles. In summer man lives from thirst to thirst and slight, frail women attack huge and deadly tubs of ice cream soda and engulf them in a manner which causes the visiting European the profoundest alarm.

In summer every one is very uncomfortable and exhausted and goes away on a vacation for two weeks. This is the most deadly feature of the season, as by the time a man has overworked a month getting ready for his vacation and has overworked another month on his return to let some other man rest, he is entirely worn out and falls victim to the deadly cucumber salad without a struggle.

There were a large number of fine bouquets of flowers; the aroma of which scented the church; many different ones brought various kinds. The wreaths that the older girls wore on their heads might well represent the crown of thorns the Savior had put on his head. The whole program was very fine from start to finish.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. It only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spencer of Amboy visited Dixon friends Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Plinny McCarthy were here Friday from Harmon trading.

Delightful Recital

One of the most delightful musicals ever given here, was that of Thursday evening—the recital of the voice pupils of Mrs. E. M. Good sell given at the Owen Clymer home with Miss Julia Clymer as hostess. The recital revealed many beautiful, well-trained voices among the Dixon pupils and those from out-of-town. Mrs. Webber of La Grange, Mrs. Powell of Polo, and Miss Althea Roe of Franklin Grove, also delighted those present. About eighty people were present at the recital.

Miss Clymer had superintended the decoration of her home and roses and rosebuds in pink and pink peonies were arranged everywhere throughout the house in artistic profusion. The arrangement of the house with reception hall, dining room, and den arranged about one great living room was ideal for the occasion, those entertaining taking their places in the living rooms while the guests were seated in the other rooms.

A special treat, aside from the many vocal treats given, was the cornet and trombone duet given by Miss Ferne Senneff and her brother Earl. The high order of each number given spoke loudly of the superior training which Mrs. Goodsell gives each individual voice.

Miss Clymer was assisted in the serving of punch at the close of the program by Misses Josephine Ives, Lucille Pearse, Blanche Chapman, Orleans Newcomer, Beatrice Howell and Helen Tribou.

The Socialists will give a dance at their hall tonight. Palmyra Mutual Aid Picnic

Three times and out, is the tale of the Palmyra Mutual Aid in its attempts to hold its annual picnic. Yesterday was the third day set and proved to be the right day. The picnic was held. Eighty-five were present—members and their families. The trip to Lowell park was made in automobiles and carriages, and a merry day was spent. Lowell Park, fresh from the many recent rains, had never looked more beautiful, and soon outdoor games were in full swing, the men devoting themselves to baseball, the rest to other sports.

Dinner was prepared by the ladies who made use of the new kitchen in which the stove had been installed. The Palmyra ladies feel a special proprietary interest in this kitchen as they agitated the matter and contributed to the fund which provided it. The kitchen is a decided improvement over cooking on the stove in the open air, with smoke from the short pipe filling your eyes as you vainly endeavor to fan the blaze and manipulate your skillet at the same time.

The picnic dinner spread on tables in the pavilion, was one of those feasts always served by the Palmyra ladies.

Kingdom-Bend Picnic

The Kingdom-Bend Aid Society will meet for its annual picnic, Wednesday, June 28th, at the Tryon Rosbrook home at the Bend. The picnic will be an all-day affair with a picnic dinner at noon. Krimbill, president of the society, 1040 Cedar Avenue, Long Beach, Calif., or Harry Crabtree, Sec., Grant Bros. Construction Co., Security Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. C. C. Kost, who is always a charming hostess, delightfully entertained the members of the C. C. Circle at her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Harry Stauffer assisted. A pleasing feature of the afternoon was the short musical program rendered by Mrs. Maurice Edwards and Mrs. Kost, and little Miss Lucille Stauffer. Mrs. Stauffer's daughter. Tempting refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon. Mrs. Chas. Rice and Mrs. Walter Cromwell will entertain the circle at its next meeting, which will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Rice.

Neely-Jacobs Wedding

The marriage of Miss Anna Louise Neely to John Clifford Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Jacobs the bride's brother, Matthew Crawford Neely of 609 South Kenilworth, Monday evening.

Dr. William E. Baron read the service and the bride was given in marriage by her brother.

Tomaso furnished the music and the guests were the immediate families of the bride and groom.

The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Grace Lowe of Delavan, Wis., as maid of honor, and L. Sommers Marriott of Elizabethtown, Ky., a chum of the groom, served him as best man.

The bride, all in white taffeta and tulle, carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, while pink roses were the flowers chosen by the maid of honor, who wore pink tulle over blue silk.

There is an extra touch of romance attached to this wedding, as the bride and groom first met in the Brook school kindergarten in the city when the former was but 5 years old. The boy was only here for a two weeks' visit, then returned to Amboy. At the age of 12 he wrote to his little girl friend. When he was yet in high school he began to call, and the old time friendship led to the ceremony of Monday night.

Following a wedding trip in the north, the young couple will be at home after July 1 at 609 South Kenilworth.

Thier-Woods

Mendota Bulletin: A wedding of more than the usual interest on account of the wide acquaintance of the principals was solemnized in Chicago on Wednesday of last week, June 14th, at which Mr. George Thier of West Brooklyn and Miss Verna Woods of Lee Center, were united in marriage. They were quietly married.

The bride is a prominent school teacher of Lee Center and is widely known and enjoys an extensive popularity among the younger set of her community.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thier, who reside near West Brooklyn and not only enjoys an extensive acquaintance in this section, but among them, by reason of his sterling qualities, he has won a legion of warm friendships.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thier are at present enjoying a honeymoon sojourn in Wisconsin and upon their

THEY'LL REMEMBER THIS SALE

40 Years from Today

Perhaps you will be one of the numerous housewives to look affectionately at your Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet forty years hence, thinking how many, many hours of toil it saved you during all those years. Perhaps you will say like so many women who already own the Hoosier:

"If it had cost me double the price, it is worth it."

But Hoosier prices are exceedingly low because each year the great Hoosier factory is building these cabinets for thousands and thousands of women. That cuts the cost of the cabinet way down.

Why waste money on some flimsy, poorly planned cabinet that means at the best only shelf-room? The Hoosier brings you 40 inventions that actually save you time and labor and miles of steps. Remember we are demonstrating all these things at this sale.

Remember there are Hoosiers for farms, camps, apartments, big and little kitchens, for window spaces and the center of the big kitchens. No further need for old-fashioned, built-in, uncleanable cupboards.

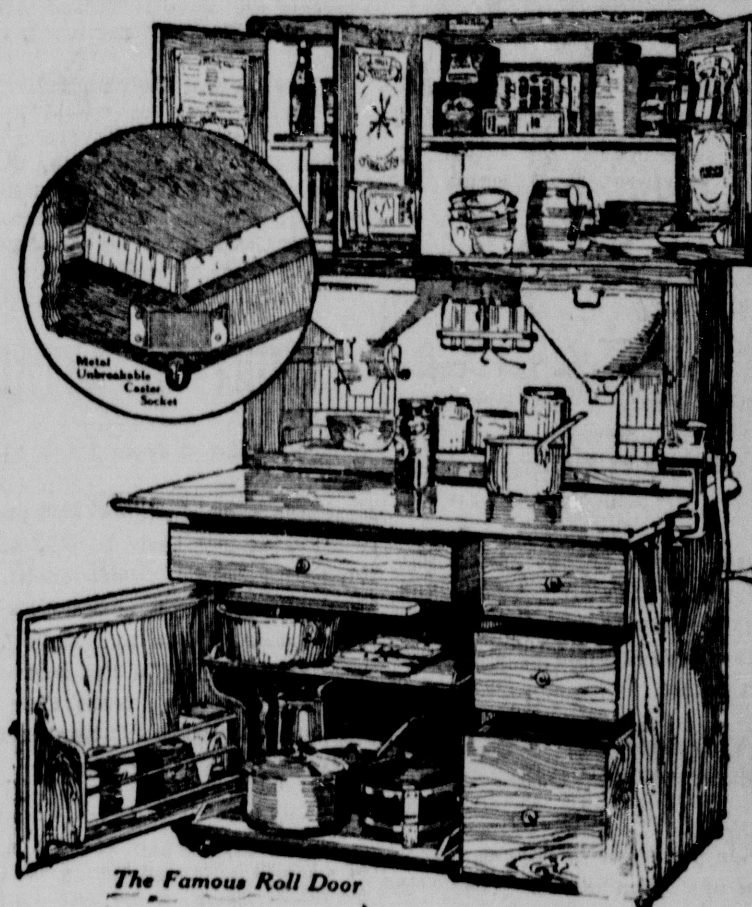

HOOSIER GOLD MEDAL SALE

Come and see them at this store as thousands did at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, where Hoosier won the Gold Medal because of its unrivaled convenience and superior construction.

You can afford a Hoosier N-O-W—and pay for it at your leisure—only $1 a week. You'll never miss that small amount; but you will miss the HOOSIER SALE if you delay.

Spare one hour today to save many hours for a lifetime. Lots of your neighbors already have been here and bought the Hoosier. They'll remember this sale forty years from today.

This important event demands your attention. See this Gold Medal demonstration this evening or Monday sure—next Saturday will be too late.

Daddy's Bedtime

An Emperor Promised
Story— a Nightingale
Something.

[Adapted from Hans Christian Andersen.]

"ONCE upon a time," daddy began right after the children's supper, "an emperor of China had a real nightingale and a make believe one to sing for him. But when he was so sick he almost died the make believe bird broke its spring and could not sing, but the real nightingale sang on a branch outside the emperor's window and persuaded death to leave the room. So the emperor thanked the nightingale for charming him back to life and offered to break the make believe bird in a thousand pieces."

"Don't do that," said the nightingale. "Keep it, as you always have, by your bedside. Your tears of thanks are my reward. Now sleep and wake up fresh and strong. I will sing you to sleep."

"So the nightingale sang beautifully, and the sick, tired emperor fell asleep. Horrid dreams that had troubled him in his illness stopped bothering him, the sunshine poured into his window, and when he awoke he was almost well. None of his courtiers or servants were with him, for they had all gone off the night before, believing him dead. Only the nightingale had stayed all night to comfort and take care of him, you see."

"At daybreak the nightingale came back to see how the emperor was, and when the old man asked the bird to stay with him always it said: 'I cannot build my nest and live in this palace and never go out. But let me come whenever I like and sit on this branch before your window, and I will sing for you. I will sing to make you happy and to make you thoughtful. I will sing to you about the good and the evil that are kept hidden from you. Little singing birds fly far and wide and sing to the poor fishermen from the sea and the poor peasants in the fields. They see and hear and learn things beyond your court. I love your heart more than your crown, so I will come and sing to you often. But you must promise me one thing.'

"I will promise you everything," cried the emperor. "For did you not save my life by your beautiful song?"

"And he stood up in his imperial robes, slits he had just put on, and he held his sword, heavy with gold, upon his heart."

"One thing only I ask of you," said the nightingale—"let no one know you have a little bird that tells you everything. It will be better so."

"Then the nightingale flew from his branch, away off into the woods by the sea, to sing to the poor fishermen, and when the courtiers came in to see after their dead emperor, there he stood in his robes bidding them 'Good morning.'" transmitted from General Pershing:

"Personally questioning troops with reference to the Ahumada affair, two troops, Tenth cavalry, Boyd's Troop C and Morey's K, joined on the night of the 20th at Ojo, Santo Domingo. Marched to within one mile of Carrizal on the 21st. Captain Boyd in command, arriving there at 7:30 a. m. Boyd sent in a Mexican guide to ask permission to pass through the town. Mexican guide returned with refusal from General Gomez. Then Gomez sent out note by orderly saying that Boyd might pass through the town, provided he stopped for a conference."

"Then General Gomez himself came out and discussed the situation fifteen or twenty minutes with Boyd. Meantime Mexican troops, moving out from the town, began surrounding Boyd's column. Gomez retired, and when he reached the right of his troops Mexican troops began firing machine guns. Boyd then dismounted to fight on foot."

"General Pershing also reports that he has sent out cavalry to support and bring back the two troops in question. As yet, however, has not had any opportunity to confer with any officers of either of the troops, and what, if any, misunderstanding led to the attack, it is impossible to judge from the evidence at hand."

Dixon
Ill.OFFICERS OF FIFTH THREATEN TO RESIGNMiffed Because Regiment Was Not Included in Call.

Danville, Ill., June 24.—Unless the Fifth infantry is called for service at once, that regiment of the Illinois National guard will be without officers. So it is asserted. Several officers of the staff of Colonel Wood reside in Danville and have recruited Company I, a unit of that regiment, to war strength.

Following the statement by Secretary Baker that he would have to deny the request of Governor Dunne to call the Fifth and Sixth, the governor was flooded with telegrams, asking that the two regiments be called to Springfield, if for no other purpose than to camp a week or so.

STORY OF ATTACK

Mexicans were stationed and practical ly all who lost their lives, including Boyd and Morey, were there. The Mexicans did heavy execution with their machine gun and then getting around to a ditch in the rear attacked the Americans from that point. The whole of Troop C was surrounded and not many got away."

Washington, June 24.—As a result of careful consideration given to the Mexican situation by the cabinet a policy was determined upon in connection with the Carrizal incident which may postpone or lead to the prevention of war.

The president and his advisers decided to take no action with reference to the attack ordered by General Gomez upon two troops of the Tenth Cavalry until all the facts have been placed before him.

In view of the importance of the matter, it is imperative in the judgment of the president that the exact facts should be established.

General Pershing has been instructed to make a thorough investigation and to present a report with his conclusions.

Command Wiped Out?

San Antonio, Tex., June 24.—It is by no means certain that the command of Captain Charles T. Boyd of eighty-six men in the Carrizal fight was not practically wiped out.

This belief exists here as a result of an expression of fear by army officers that the casualties suffered by Captain Boyd's command was terrifically heavy.

Believe Captain Morey Dead.

Field Headquarters Colonia Dublin, Chihuahua, June 24.—That Captain Chihuahua, June 26.—That Captain Lewis S. Morey is either dead or a prisoner was the assumption reached here when no reports had been received from any of the three officers who accompanied the troops of the Tenth cavalry engaged at Carrizal on Wednesday.

Mexican reports have said that Captain Charles T. Boyd and Lieutenant Henry Adair were among the dead, but that Captain Morey escaped.

Gives Out Pershing Report.

Washington, June 24.—Secretary Baker made public a report from General Pershing on the night at Carrizal, based on personal questioning of men from the two troops of the Tenth cavalry engaged in the conflict. It indicated that the attack upon the Americans was unprovoked, but gave no estimate of casualties on either side.

General Pershing had not had an opportunity to confer with any officer of the two troops and Secretary Baker said that a definite conclusion as to where the blame rested could not be formed.

Story Substantially Same.

The report, which was taken to the White House earlier in the day and afterward laid before the cabinet told substantially the same story carried in border press dispatches. It said the Mexican troops opened fire with a machine gun after a twenty-minute conference between Captain Boyd of Troop C, Tenth cavalry, commanding the detachment, and General Gomez, the Carranza commander at Carrizal.

attention to the indications that 57 of the troops are missing and that the press reports indicate that fourteen of these are dead and 43 are prisoners. Pershing does not account for wounded, but thinks all the wounded were captured.

SPORTING NOTES

Des Moines, Ia.—Arrangements are complete for the annual Des Moines automobile race to be staged at the local speedway June 24. While all the entries have not been received by the management it was stated that the foremost drivers and mechanics in the racing game will participate.

Experts installed the time device and tested it throughout speed trials. Last year, through an error in the device the decision of the judges as to the winner was reversed nearly 12 hours after the finish of the race.

This year's race includes a fifty mile dash in addition to the 150 mile event.

Cedar Point, O. — "Chief March King" otherwise John Philip Sousa, of New York, noted as a bandmaster, will be among those who step to the firing line when the Indian Shooting association begins its 17th annual tournament and pow-wow on Tuesday, June 27. Last year he was directing his band at the San Francisco exposition and for the first time in the history of the association was unable to answer the roll call.

This year's meet lasts four days. From the beginning to the end each member of the organization will be known by his Indian name. Tom A. Marshall of Chicago, famous as a trap shooter, president, is High Chief Long Talk; Vice Chief John R. Taylor of Columbus, is Chief Buckeye; James W. Bell of St. Louis, keeper of wampum or treasurer, is Chief Ding Dong; and D. H. Eaton of Cincinnati, scribe or secretary is Chief Write 'Em Up.

Membership in the association is limited to 100 and to qualify a candidate for a vacant place must prove that he is an expert trapshooter in a series of elimination contests.

This year's program is said to be the most elaborate ever arranged. Numerous trophies have been hung up in addition to $1,000 cash.

Omaha: The directors of the recently organized Athletic club, it is announced, will try to secure either James J. Corbett or Robert Fitzsimmons as athletic director when the new $400,000 club house is ready for occupancy. Mrs. Corbett is a former Omaha girl, daughter of Mrs. James S. Taylor of this city, and it is believed this may influence Corbett to favorably consider an offer from the club.

Omaha: Joe Stecher and "Strangler" Lewis, who are matched to wrestle here about July 4, met on the mat a year ago in Evansville, Ind., and the contest went over two hours with out a fall. Lewis is larger than the Nebraska man.

Cleveland: Every student at Case School of Applied Science is to be a track athlete, according to plans announced by Pat Pasini, physical director. Mr. Pasini is working out a schedule calculated to show what must be expected of each athlete in running, jumping and muscular feats. Indoor work is to be reduced to a minimum and the boys will be started on outdoor work when they report next fall. "It's part of our preparedness plan of training the bodies as well as the minds," said Mr. Pasini.

Omaha: Lloyd's of London have written a policy insuring the wrestling bout between Joe Stecher and Ed (Strangler) Lewis, scheduled for the 4th of July, against interference by rain. The match is to be held at the Douglas county fair grounds in the open air. The policy calls for the payment of $35,000 to Gene Melady, the promoter, should inclement weather prevent the bout.

Dramatic Notes

PRINCESS THEATRE.

Tonight you will find an excellent program at the Princess. With "A Life At Stake," produced by the Mustang Co., featuring Art Acord and Nita Davis. This is an interesting drama. Also Gladys Hulette in "When She Played Broadway," a stirring drama of stage life, and Frances Keyes in a comedy, "The Dashing Druggist's Dilemma." Sunday night the following program will be presented: "The Capital Prize," a two reel detective drama featuring Harry Benham, and "Hulda, the Silent," featuring Louis Wilson, Harry Carter and Maude George; also "Putting Her Foot In It" a comedy presenting Billy Rhodes and Ray Gallagher.

GARRICK—CHICAGO.

"Nothing but the Truth," the big farce success of the season, now playing at the Garrick theatre for an all-summer run. H. H. Frazee makes this production and he has engaged a mighty efficient cast of players to present this play. This is the farce that James Montgomery made from a novel of the same name. It is in three acts, and the story is woven around a young broker who makes a sizable bet with his partner that he can tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth for 24 hours.

Ned Bennett is this hero's name and this role in "Nothing But the Truth" is admirably acted by Will Deming, an old Chicago favorite. Mr. Deming will be remembered as the principal player in another great farce which had a long Chicago run, "It Pays to Advertise." He loses no opportunity for fun-making in this new part, and his work in this farce will undoubtedly add to his reputation as an actor.

In addition to these players mentioned who appear in this farce beauty as well as artistry is well represented in Marie Carroll, Ione Bright, Mary Harper, Nena Blake and Beatrice Clevenger. They all do their full share in helping along this very funny play. While "Nothing But the Truth" remains at the Garrick, summer prices will prevail. Evening and Saturday matinee prices will be from 50 cents to $1.50, but the best seats at the Wednesday matinee will be only $1.

PRINCESS—CHICAGO

"Mr. Lazarus" the new comedy by Harvey O'Higgins and Harriet Ford, with Henry E. Dixey as the star, will have its first metropolitan hearing at the Princess theatre Tuesday night, June 20th.

Not only will "Mr. Lazarus" bring "Adonis" Dixey to the field of comedy in which he has done some of his most delightful work, but it will challenge interest and curiosity on its own account as the latest production of these successful playwrights, Mr. O'Higgins and Miss Ford, who have to their credit already "The Argyle Case," "The Dummy" and "Polygamy." The play is said to be just such a piece of whimsical humor and mystery as will supply an idea vehicle for Dixey in the title role of the western miner returned "as from the dead," and a trifle uncertain of his identity, while the heart of the plot is a romance of young love, full of charm and ardor.

Backed By Solid Party.

When Mr. Hughes left the conference room tonight, after but two weeks of personal effort, he saw practically a solid party rallied to the support of the republican ticket and with every indication that nearly the entire progressive party will be back into the homestead within a few days.

From now on the nominee will devote himself to the preparation of his speech of acceptance and getting ready for the big campaign speaking tours which he plans to make this summer and fall. He will meet Senator Harding of Ohio in the morning and arrange for the notification ceremony, which will be held either at Bridgehampton, L. I., or here. Unless adequate telegraph facilities are installed at Bridgehampton Mr. Hughes indicated today he would receive the committee in New York early in July.

GERMANY IS SHORT ON POTATO SUPPLY

Batocki, Food Regulator, Says Nation Has Enough Grain.

Berlin, June 24.—There is plenty of grain in Germany to supply the country until the harvest, declared Adolf von Batocki, president of the food regulation board, in an address at Dusseldorf.

The potato situation was more unfavorable, he said, and would be especially difficult during the next fortnight, but the deficit could be met by arranging for increased bread rations for physical laborers. The potato situation in western Germany had been made worse by Holland's prohibition upon exports, due to the agitation there, which, Herr von Batocki said, probably was induced by "British money."

BULLOCK'S ORIOLE

Icterus bullocki

Length, about eight inches. Our only oriole with top of head and throat black and cheeks orange.

Range: Breeds from South Dakota, Nebraska, and Kansas to the Pacific ocean and from southern Canada to northern Mexico; winters in Mexico.

Habits and economic status: In the West this bird takes the place occupied in the East by the Baltimore oriole. In food, nesting habits, and song the birds are similar. Both are migratory and remain on their summer range only some five or six months. They take kindly to orchards, gardens, and the vicinity of farm buildings and often live in villages and city parks. Their diet is largely made up of insects that infest orchards and gardens. When fruit trees are in bloom they are constantly busy among the blossoms and save many of them from destruction. In the food of Bullock's oriole beetles amount to 35 per cent and nearly all are harmful. Many of these are weevils, some of which live upon acorns and other nuts. Ants and wasps amount to 15 per cent of the diet. The black olive scale was found in 45 of the 162 stomachs examined. Caterpillars, with a few moths and pupae, are the largest item of food and amount to over 41 per cent. Among these were codling-moth larvae. The vegetable food is practically all fruit (19 per cent) and in cherry season consists largely of that fruit. Eating small fruits is the bird's worst trait, but it will do harm in this way only when very numerous.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life

by FRANK H. SPEARMAN

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, is rescued from imminent danger on a scenic railroad by George Storm, a newsboy. Grown to young womanhood, Helen saves Storm, now a fireman, and Robert Seagrue, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safe-breakers employed by Seagrue steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut off line for the Tidewater, fatally wound the general and escape. Her father's estate badly involved by his death, Helen goes to work on the Tidewater. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagrue, and though they are taken from her, finds an accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm is employed by Rhinelander, Spike, befriended by Helen, in his turn saves her and the right-of-way contracts when Seagrue kidnaps her. Helen and Storm win for Rhinelander a race against Seagrue for right-of-way. Helen, Storm and Rhinelander rescue Spike from Seagrue's men. Spike steals records to protect Rhinelander, and Storm and Helen save Spike from death in the burning courthouse. Vein in Superstition mine pinches out. Seagrue sells it and sells it to Rhinelander. The vein is relocated.

THIRTEENTH INSTALLMENT

A FIGHT FOR A FORTUNE

A bright morning sun beat down in winter warmth on the Superstition mine. Near the mouth of the tunnel stood Amos Rhinelander, now sole owner of the property, giving orders to his foreman. At the loading platform not far away George Storm was bantering with Helen Holmes. It was the day after her hazardous flight down the aerial railway, but she looked as refreshed and charming as if she had never known the meaning of the word trouble.

George Storm, her companion, stalwart and young, was disputing with Helen for the possession of a pocket mirror he had fished from her vanity bag, when Rhinelander approached. "I am afraid I am de trop here," he said dryly, looking from one to the other.

Helen flushed the least bit. "Why, not at all," she disclaimed. "We were only waiting for the team to come back from Valley."

"And you found it easier to wait together," continued Rhinelander, unabashed. "However," he went on, sparing the manifest embarrassment of the young couple, "I've something to say to each of you."

They looked at him questioning. He held two papers in his hand. "Helen," he continued, "yesterday completed, I think, pretty thoroughly, my title to the Superstition mine. I never expect to get any stronger claim on a piece of property than I now have on this. 'Unless,' he added, quizzically, "to my lot in the home cemetery after I occupy it permanently. In fact—his face lighted with a smile—"it looked awhile yesterday as if I shouldn't have any real use for that even. I certainly thought, George," he said, speaking to Storm, "while we were trapped in the tunnel, the Superstition mine itself would be our last resting place. But while we were relocating that big vein you, Helen, were getting without the loss of a minute the help necessary to bring us out alive."

"That is one reason," he went on, deliberately, "why I have decided over night to convey to you, little girl, with my compliments and best wishes, a certificate for one-third the capital stock of this property." He handed her a paper. "Here it is."

"George"—he turned to his assistant—"you, too, have stood by me at every turn of the road since I went into this cut-off fight. You lost your job with the Tidewater line through sticking to me. I could have got you reinstated—you know that, of course, as well as I do. But there was a little selfishness, I admit, in my not doing so. I felt you could be of more aid to me on the front; and my expectations have not in a single instance been disappointed."

"I don't expect to spend all my life in this country. I shall have to leave behind me, when I go East, someone to represent my interests and to guard them. The great wealth that has come to me in this property has come over night. I wasn't suffering for money before I owned it. But I want the man who stands out in this country, for the interests of Amos Rhinelander to have a substantial monetary backing outside his care of my affairs. This is why, George, I am presenting to you in this certificate, a second one-third of the capital stock of the Superstition mine. Now," he exclaimed, putting up his hands to shut off the protests and expressions of gratitude voiced by his companions together, "I don't want to hear a word further about this from either of you. All Helen and I ask from you"—he was speaking to Storm—"is to see that our dividend checks are mailed to us promptly."

A man came up to Rhinelander with a letter. He opened the note and read: Dear Mr. Rhinelander: Please tell Helen Holmes that Leary, known likewise as Lefty (but whose real name was Hyde), has confessed he killed her father.

The warden says that maybe I will be paroled about the 16th. SPIKE. Rhinelander read the note aloud very slowly and distinctly. For a moment the three were silent.

Rhinelander handed the letter to Helen. She stood deeply moved.

Seagrue, in his apartment, was still chagrined over the loss of what he had believed to be a worthless mine, but which had already become known all over Nevada as the richest gold-bearing property on the great Superstition range. He had not yet abandoned his hope of recovering through some clever trick the property that he had parted with for what now seemed a paltry sum, and his mind was set on regaining control of it. He was now studying the bill of sale that signified his loss of the property. He presently took up a pen and wrote out a dispatch: Amos Rhinelander, Superstition Mine: Quarterly payment Superstition mine due tomorrow.

SEAGRUE. Storm and Helen were with Rhinelander when the telegram was handed to him at the mine. Rhinelander showed it to his companions.

"I think I will draw the money from the bank and go to town with it in the morning," said Rhinelander, studying the substance of the message.

Helen intervened: "Let me go with you," she exclaimed, "and I can start Spike for the mine when he leaves the jail. I should hate to see him get mixed up with any more crooks when he gets out."

Rhinelander assented, and writing out an answer to Seagrue's message, read it to Storm before he gave it to a messenger:

Earl Seagrue: Albemarle Apartments, Oceanside: Will make payment on time. In on the morning passenger.

RHINELANDER.

Seagrue received the prompt answer without much elation. He continued thoughtful, and as Adams, his servant, was leaving, called him back, asked for his hat and coat, and, accompanied by the man, left the apartment.

Directing his steps up street, Seagrue made his way to a quarter of the town less noted for its attractiveness than for its reputation as a haunt of men of doubtful character. Having reached the vicinity he desired—a shabby and deserted side street—he looked about to see whether he was observed, and, perceiving no one, started down an obscure alley. He knocked at the door of a weather-beaten house standing close to the street. A man opened the door. Seagrue, followed by Adams, went inside.

Ward, said Seagrue, addressing the scowling occupant of the room, "I've got a job for you."

The man addressed as Ward, a scowling, beetle-browed adventurer, scrutinized Seagrue silently at the intimation.

"I know you're sore," continued Seagrue, "at the way the last job went," he added, recalling the incident of the stealing of Rhinelander's pay roll. "But that wasn't your fault or mine."

Ward, without answering, continued to regard him askance. Seagrue unfolded his idea to the hardened crook and the promise of ready money and enough of it—whether he succeeded or failed—finally enlisted him.

"You and Adams, here"—Seagrue nodded toward his servant—"can handle the thing without any trouble. If you can't do it, you'll be paid anyway. But if there's any possible chance, I want to see you separate Rhinelander from his money for twenty-four hours."

"There's no time to lose," muttered Ward, picking up a railroad time table. "Are you ready to go, Adams?" Adams nodded. Seagrue supplied both plentifully with money and the two left together.

Ward and Adams, proceeding to the station, boarded an outgoing passenger train from Las Vegas which should bring Rhinelander to Oceanside. Learning from the conductor where the down train would be flagged, they left their own train at a convenient station and buying tickets back, boarded the Las Vegas passenger when it stopped.

In the observation car, Rhinelander, seated with Helen, was watching the landscape through the window when Seagrue's men coming in paid for seats not far away.

In his lap Rhinelander held a small bag, and from the care with which he retained it, Ward surmised it might contain something of especial value.

Ward, while he sat studying out a scheme to take a chance on the proposition and at least get the bag into his possession, presently spoke to Adams: "The train stops twenty minutes at Clinton Junction," he muttered to his companion. "We can get hold of a bag there something like Rhinelander's."

No further words were needed to convey his meaning. The moment the train pulled into Clinton, Ward and Adams, Seagrue's men following took seats directly behind them. Rhinelander placed the hand bag at his feet. Ward made no move until Rhinelander became occupied closely with the bill of fare. While he was trying to tempt Helen with the various delicacies offered, Ward put his foot carefully out, slid Rhinelander's bag away with his toe and, unobserved by the hurrying waiters or the busy diners, pushed the dummy leather bag into its place.

The knaves then coolly ordered their luncheon, ate it—somewhat hurriedly—and left the dining car ahead of their victim.

When slackening speed warned Ward and Adams that the train was nearing Oceanside, they were in no hurry to start out. In fact, they lagged noticeably in their movements, and Helen and Rhinelander left the station and took a taxicab uptown without noticing the change of bags that had been played on them.

And just at this juncture blind chance itself took a hand in the little game. Two city detectives in plain clothes had come to meet the train and were refreshing their memories by reading a description of two hold-up men expected on it. Scanning the faces of the incoming passengers for such a pair as would fit their search, the detectives noted Ward and Adams getting slowly out of the coach. While the pair did not quite suit the description, the officers, on general principles, crossed over to meet them and stopped them for examination. A few curt questions and equally voluble answers did not satisfy the plain-clothes men, who, after some discussion insisted that the suspects should accompany them to the station.

Ward's mouth fell as he heard the order. Uselessly he tried to convince the detectives that he and his friend knew absolutely nothing of the hold-up in question. To the station they were compelled to go and there were held in cells until the sergeant could send out a man to bring in the victim of the hold-up for their further identification.

To complete Ward's chagrin, the precious handbag was checked in under the sergeant's desk.

On reaching the hotel in which Rhinelander had taken Helen, she suggested that while he made his payment to Seagrue she would go to the safety deposit vault—Rhinelander himself was president of the Safety Deposit vault company—and place their securities away before starting for the jail to intercept Spike when he should be released. In parting they agreed to meet again at the hotel.

Helen went directly to the vault, which she reached just in time to make her deposit of the stock certificates in Rhinelander's box; the watchman was closing the cage when she came out to go to the penitentiary to meet Spike.

It was a long drive, but once there she was not kept long in suspense. In the warden's office she awaited Spike, who, greatly changed, presently entered the room.

Rhinelander had found Seagrue in his rooms. Without words, the two set about the business in hand. Seagrue showed the agreement and Rhinelander, placing the handbag on the table, opened it to take out the money. Inside, he found an odd-looking package and thought that Helen must have wrapped the currency up differently after she had taken it from him. He unrolled a bunch of newspapers—astonished at the situation—but could find nothing inside them that looked like currency. The money was gone.

URIC ACID IN MEAT BRINGS RHEUMATISM

Says a little Salts in water may save you from dread attack.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water. Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

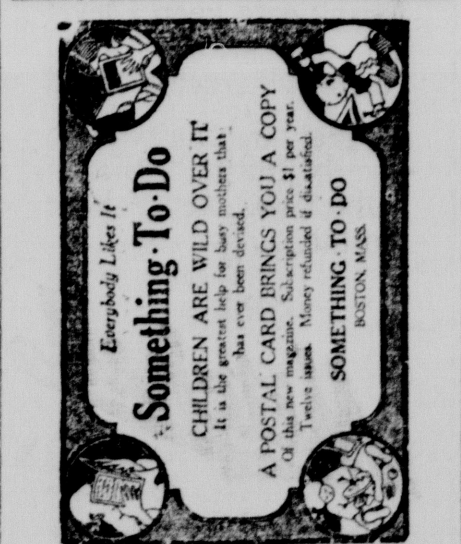

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

GERMANS HURRY TROOPS TO EAST

Shifts Made from French and Italian Fronts.

ALL OF BUKOWINA IS CZAR'S

Slav Forces Take Three More Towns—Add to Number of Prisoners Taken—Control Rail Line into Roumania—Petrograd and Berlin Reports Are Contradictory.

Petrograd, June 24.—That the central powers are hurrying troops from the French and Italian fronts in an effort to stop the Russian dash through Bukowina and for the passes of the Carpathians is indicated in dispatches from the scene of action. It is believed that the heavy artillery fire in the Verdun sector and the attacks in Champagne are for the purpose of masking the transfer of forces from western theater of war to try to stem the advance of the czar's army toward Kovel.

The official statement shows that the Russians have traversed almost the entire length of Bukowina. Gurahumora, reported occupied, is ten miles from the Roumanian border. The Russians have taken possession of two railways leading from Roumania into Bukowina.

Three Villages Taken.

The forces endeavoring to capture the Austrian army in Bukowina have made further advances. The war office announces the capture of three villages west of Radautz, thirty miles south of Czernowitz. Eight hundred prisoners were taken. The villages are Gurahumora, Stralzia and Saraceh.

The Russians also have taken Vistula, on the border between Galicia and Bukowina, thirty-five miles southwest of Czernowitz.

Efforts of the Germans to advance along the northern sector met with no success, the announcement declares. It says, in part:

"Over all the front occupied by the army of General Brussiloff, and especially at Radziwolv, the enemy continues to receive reinforcements from the French and Italian fronts. "At 11 o'clock of Wednesday night an engagement began along the line in the Oginski Canal region at Logischin. The fighting was still in progress on Thursday evening."

Constantine Rushes Note to Kaiser. Geneva, June 24.—A special messenger carrying an autograph letter from the King of Greece to the German emperor has passed through Lugano, Switzerland. The messenger was accompanied by two Greek officers.

German Attacks Grow Violent.

Paris, June 24.—The Germans have launched a heavy attack in the Champagne district. Three violent assaults on the French trenches in the region of Mont Tetu were repulsed Thursday night after severe fighting with grenades and bayonets according to a statement issued by the war office.

Berlin Reports German Progress. Berlin, June 24.—Continued progress for General von Linsingen's forces in fighting west and southwest of Lutsk, despite repeated counter-attacks by the Russians, was announced by the war office. Russian attacks in the direction of Brody were repulsed.

ROOT AND FAIRBANKS ARE HUGHES CALLERS

New Yorker to Take Prominent Part in Campaign.

New York, June 24.—Precampaign conferences more important than any since the Chicago convention were held here by Charles E. Hughes with Elihu Root and Charles W. Fairbanks, the Republican vice presidential nominee.

Mr. Hughes was closeted with each of these callers for two hours. The entire plan of the campaign was sketched, including Mr. Hughes' speech of acceptance, which he will soon begin drafting, the treatment of what Republican leaders consider the chief issues of the day, and the organization of the national committee.

It was authoritatively announced at the close of the conference that Mr. Root would be a prominent figure in conducting the campaign and that he would actively participate in it.

Arredondo Talks to Latins.

Washington, June 24.—Elihu Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, on instructions from his foreign office, personally informed diplomatic representatives of South and Central American republics that the Carranza troops in the state of Chihuahua were under orders not to attack American troops unless the Americans assumed the aggressive.

CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Dixon Leaders. For months Dixon citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Dixon residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Dixon reader.

B. A. Worley, blacksmith, Pearl Ave., Dixon, says: "The action of my kidneys was irregular and annoying and my back ached after using Doan's Kidney Pills, the pains left my back and my kidneys became regular in action." (Statement given May 21, 1912.)

OVER TWO YEARS LATER, Mr. Worley said: "Whenever my back gets lame and sore and I need a kidney medicine, I use Doan's Kidney Pills. They give me relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Worley has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props. Buffalo, N. Y.

U. S. ONE OF THE OLDEST NATIONS

SCRUTINY SHOWS ONLY RUSSIA AND ENGLAND SURPASS IT IN AGE

No Other Country in Western Hemisphere Has Had Unchanged Regime

You may be a close student of history, conservant with important, momentous events of world history from very early times, but are you aware that the United States is one of the oldest nations on earth?

The New York World in calling attention to this fact declares that with the exception of England and Russia, the United States as an existing nation is older than any other country of Europe. It is the only country in the Western hemisphere that has stood for upward of a century and a quarter with an unchanged government. Of course its boundaries have been changed from time to time, its constitution has gone through a civil war, but it is governed now the same as 1789, when its present form of government began; this can be said for no other nation of the western world.

The French revolution began the same year that the American constitution was adopted—1789—and since that time Europe has been practically remade. England, Russia, Denmark and Spain stand out among the nations as "ancient," yet, in the time since the present form of government in the United States began, all of these nations have undergone governmental changes of great importance and significance.

Although there was an important governmental change in England in the middle of the seventeenth century and a "revolution" in 1688, the average Englishman insists that his government dates from the time of the Magna charter and that England is a nation compared to which the rest of the world is in swaddling clothes, so to speak.

Admitting the changes brought about by the revolution of 1688, the line of kings of England has ruled without interruption since the end of the 17th century. Notwithstanding this, however, the English government as it is known today had its beginning in 1832 when the first reform bill was passed.

The reform bills—three in number—shifted much power from the nobility to the common people and changed the "limitation" of the monarchy from a feudal to a popular right, in effect virtually remaking the nation, although the changes were brought about in a quiet and orderly manner. In 1912 the "parliament bill" which took from the house of lords all but "suspensive veto power" and left the commons practically the rulers of the country was passed. In addition to these there have been other important governmental changes.

Since the beginning of the French revolution in 1789 France has had two empires, three kinds of kingdoms and three republics. One king has been executed, two others have been forced to abdicate. Since the formation of the third republic the cabinet has been changed on an average once a year. It has had Socialist ministries and various positions in its cabinet have been filled by prominent Socialists and radicals.

As all students of history know, the present German empire grew out of the Franco-Prussian war so that it is the junior of the United States by nearly half a century. Four great European nations—France, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy—were finally established in the fifteen years between 1860 and 1875.

Although Spain is one of the ancient nations of the world, her present constitutional government dates only from the beginning of the nineteenth century. There has been another change in her government, even more spectacular, though less generally known, namely, the establishment of a republic which continued for two years. The present kingdom dates from 1875.

The kingdom of the Netherlands had its beginning in 1815, when the congress of Vienna granted its national independence under the house of Orange.

Under the patronage of Napoleon in 1803 the little Alpine states of Switzerland were united into an independent but somewhat loose federation. In 1814 a new confederation was formed which was modeled after the United States and which held the cantons together in a more strongly centralized federal power. The central government was given still greater power by a revision of the constitution in 1874. The powers of Europe at the congress of Vienna agreed never to violate Switzerland's neutrality or to attempt to move troops through the passes of the Swiss Alps.

The independent kingdom of Greece dates from 1832, that of Roumania from 1862 and that of Bulgaria from 1875. The independence of Montenegro began in 1875, and it became a constitutional monarchy in 1905. The Portuguese republic was established in 1910. There have been few changes in the government of Russia since 1554, when Ivan the Terrible made the country independent of Tartar authority.—The Pathfinder.

Every Mitchell Sells Another

The Red Selvage

When you see a Red Selvage on a piece of Wire Cloth—whether painted or galvanized—you may be sure it's the best that can be had. The Red Selvage is a trade mark devised and adopted by REYNOLDS WIRE CO., whose cloth is made here in Dixon and than which there is no better.

In our show window is an interesting exhibit of REYNOLD'S DIXON WIRE CLOTH. Wire in the roll is shown from 6 inches wide up to 6 feet wide. A roll is shown as it comes from the annealing furnace ready for painting and a roll cleaned and ready for 10 coats of galvanizing which is given the celebrated "Alumina" brand.
